Emma Barnett named new host of BBC Radio 4's Woman's Hour

Advertisement It was week two of the three-hour daily show that would come to occupy the next four years of my life, and an absolute baptism of fire; a lesson in just how creative and steely one must be to survive and thrive in live radio.

BBC NEWS

There is a stalking genre in valentines cards. The listeners are the army — the heart and soul of any live radio programme worth its airtime. Her many awards include the Commonwealth Poetry Prize, the Musgrave Gold Medal from Jamaica and the Windham Campbell Literature Prize.

Anita Rani Woman's Hour role confirmed as she hosts with Emma Barnett

Johnson Professor of English and African and Afroamerican Studies.

BBC Radio 4 Woman's Hour

For the biggest interviews and the best TV listings now and never miss a copy. Zara Mohammed is the first woman, and the youngest person, to be leader of the Muslim Council of Britain.

Woman's Hour review: Emma Barnett effortlessly owns the show

She brings a wealth of broadcasting experience as well as a perspective and insight that will be valuable when exploring the issues facing women today.

Advice

She joins Emma to talk about her new role. However, Marie wasn't able to prevent the release of Helen's murderer in 2020. But these announcements have drawn criticism from a number of organisations.

BBC Radio 4 Woman's Hour

She was appointed Poet Laureate of Jamaica in 2017, a position she will hold until 2020. Fast forward a couple of decades to my first shift on LBC.

Anita Rani joins BBC Radio 4's 'Woman's Hour'

The road that took a female rioter, Ashli Babbitt, from serving in the military in Iraq and Afghanistan to being shot dead by police after storming into the Capitol will doubtless be pored over by journalists for months to come: Barnett wasted no time in getting started. Most reopened in June and have remained open ever since. But the thing is, there is always somebody to talk to: the listeners.
