Word from the Mother: Language and African Americans by Geneva Smitherman

Geneva Smitherman needs little introduction; she has produced seminal works on the history, development and structure of AAL African American Language. It provides solidarity with your community and gives you a sense of personal identity.

Language is a tie that binds. But in the meantime, this is a lively text that will have great appeal for both undergraduate and graduate students studying language—students who will no doubt appreciate its lively language and hipness to use an AAL word, but who will also have their awareness of the cultural and political nature of language use greatly enhanced by reading it. This was seen in the political stylings of Public Enemy, Ice Cube, KRS-One, Tupac, etc.
