Early Whig Ideology, Ancient Constitutionalism, and the Reverend Samuel Johnson

This volume is a republication of a series of letters, written by the author when he was a medical student in Paris, to the Newark Daily Advertiser. No one can rate more highly than myself the success with which a complicated system is worked by the members of the Swiss Council or, to use expressions familiar to Englishmen, by the Swiss Cabinet.

Nature and Scope

Still it certainly would be urged by a fair-minded opponent of the referendum that there exists a presumption that the Houses of Parliament acting together will exhibit something more of legislative intelligence than would the mass of the electorate when returning their answer to a question put to them by the referendum. In Luttrell tells us: '15 Oct.

Defoe's Troubles in 1720, Notes and Queries

Many scholars argue that this period precluded the real industrial age that began in earnest from the mid-nineteenth century onwards.

Bell here at dinner, to talk, I suppose, about our project of buying meal concerning which I had wrote to him. In dealing with advertisers our readers may be confident that they will be fairly and squarely treated in every case.

George Ridpath

Its existence is undoubted, but the veto has not been exercised for at least two centuries.

I made the Pope pay for my Beef and Mutton last Lent, out of pure spite to the Romish Religion; and at present my good friend the King of Sweden finds me in clean linen, and the Mufti gets me credit at the Tavern. In 1870 the demand for minority representation was put forward mainly as the means for obtaining a hearing for intelligent minorities whose whisper might easily be drowned by the shouts of an unintelligent majority. Present at the examination of Dobby's boys, who, in general, did very well.

Early Whig Ideology, Ancient Constitutionalism, and the Reverend Samuel Johnson

When Anne succeeded to the throne on March 8, 1702, the following newspapers were in existence: The London Post, English Post, Postman, Postboy, Flying Post, London Gazette, Post Angel, New State of Europe, and Dawks's and Dyer's News Letter the former of which was printed in script letters, to look as much as possible like writing. Ramsay and received the balance due, which was £2, 19s.
