The battle of Spring Hill, Tennessee, November 29, 1864 (1913 edition)

Twenty-five Hours to Tragedy: The Battle of Spring Hill and Operations on November 29, 1864: Precursor to the Battle of Franklin. Although the town had been occupied by both Confederate and Federal forces at various times, it had not been seriously impacted by the war. The importance of this campaign cannot be overstated as a different outcome of this battle could have altered history.

Lotz House:: Civil War Museum and Franklin Battlefield Walking Tours

And on the first floor where the cannon ball finally came to rest one can clearly see where the hot lead ball first hit, burning the floor then rolled.
BOOK EXCERPT: The Nashville Campaign, culminating with the last major battle of the Civil War, is one of the most compelling and controversial campaigns of the conflict. The soil, rich with the decay of prehistoric vegetation, was a natural attraction to wildlife and Native Americans.
