Buchthal, Hugo, 1909

The answer may lie with the Shah. As this is a trans-disciplinary project, we would like to bring together scholars working across different disciplines and languages to map out the trajectories of these narratives.

A pesar de la labor pionera de Jesús Domínguez Bordona en la descripción del fondo de manuscritos miniados italianos de la Biblioteca Nacional —que venía a unirse a los trabajos de Schiff y Paz y Meliá en torno a los libros de ilustres bibliófilos como el Marqués de Santillana o el Conde de Haro—, y de la multitud de estudios monográficos que en décadas más recientes han ampliado y refinado nuestro conocimiento de las relaciones culturales entre las cortes italianas y la Península, son muchas las sorpresas que guarda aún esta institución y mucho el trabajo por hacer para esclarecer las circunstancias precisas por las que algunos de estos manuscritos llegaron a Castilla ya en el siglo XV. Akademie Verlag now De Gruyter 2012, in collaboration with the Warburg Institute Briefe, ed.
