The art of putting paintings under the hammer

In 1948 Letitia was awarded a bronze medal in the arts section of the Olympic Games for her painting of the Meath Hunt Point to Point Races, the only Irish medal that year, and one of the last Olympic medals for art to be awarded. That and all of the usual anxiety of a father leaving his daughter not just beyond the Pale and not just beyond the bog but truly what seemed like beyond the beyond! His process begins with photographs focused on people, signs, trains, graffiti, urban walls, boxes, metal, maps, and other Americana ephemera.

Irish Matters: REVIEW OF EAMON GRENNAN, THE QUICK OF IT

There is no implication in it of any inevitable collapsing back of the exalted into the everyday, or of the merely imagined, if that is what it is, being without value because unreal. Originally from Williamsport, PA, Ramin currently lives and works in San Francisco. The greater inclusiveness of which Fowler speaks in his introduction seems in places to consist of finding marginal figures who are doing the same kind of art-respectable thing as better-known ones, but less distinctively.

BJCP Styles: Commercial Examples (Beer Only) Flashcards by Bret Hammond

Not every Louis le Brocquy piece is of equal quality or value. Amidst the ornate furnishings a couple, caught in the sunlight, converse in the back-ground, while almost masked by the back of a chair, a few feet from us, a woman sits reading.
