Tzigane [music] : rapsodie de concert pour violon et orchestre / Maurice Ravel

Taking into account these distinctions, in harmony with the Magisterium of my Predecessors and in communion with the Bishops of the Catholic Church, I confirm that euthanasia is a grave violation of the law of God, since it is the deliberate and morally unacceptable killing of a human person. In reality, what might seem logical and humane, when looked at more closely is seen to be senseless and inhumane.

Work “Tzigane”

Tzigane opens with an extended solo for the violin Lento, quasi cadenza , buried in the middle of which is a theme characterized by a dotted-rhythm, falling-fifth figure which serves as the melodic meat for much of the work. The New Testament revelation confirms the indisputable recognition of the value of life from its very beginning. The poverty of which Paul speaks is not only a stripping of divine privileges, but also a sharing in the lowliest and most vulnerable conditions of human life cf.

Tzigane, rhapsodie de concert, for...

If any one slays Cain, vengeance shall be taken on him sevenfold'. What of the spreading of death caused by reckless tampering with the world's ecological balance, by the criminal spread of drugs, or by the promotion of certain kinds of sexual activity which, besides being morally unacceptable, also involve grave risks to life? Jn 3:21 , that is, to accept and fulfil completely the responsibility of loving and serving, of defending and promoting human life.

No less critical in the formation of conscience is the recovery of the necessary link between freedom and truth. We see this attested in the many biblical passages which respectfully and lovingly speak of conception, of the forming of life in the mother's womb, of giving birth and of the intimate connection between the initial moment of life and the action of God the Creator. How very significant is the dissatisfaction which marks man's life in Eden as long as his sole point of reference is the world of plants and animals cf.

Maurice Ravel

As far as the right to life is concerned, every innocent human being is absolutely equal to all others. Unfortunately, God's marvellous plan was marred by the appearance of sin in history.

Maurice Ravel

Work Title Tzigane Alternative. Therefore, by the authority which Christ conferred upon Peter and his Successors, and in communion with the Bishops of the Catholic Church, I confirm that the direct and voluntary killing of an innocent human being is always gravely immoral.
