Event Management Courses

The unit applies to hospitality and catering organisations that produce and serve desserts, including hotels, restaurants, clubs and patisseries. It requires the ability to plan rosters according to industrial provisions, operational efficiency requirements, and within wage budgets.

Diploma of Project Management

Average fees displayed are purely indicative and may not be your actual fee. It requires the ability to consult with colleagues and customers, develop policies and procedures for quality service provision, and manage the delivery of customer service.

Management

A Diploma of Business Management, for example, teaches how to master the art of project planning, budget management, and liaising with stakeholders, while sharpening your skills at communication, leadership, and collaboration in a modern business environment. Sell tourism products and services Unit code: SITXFSA002 Unit description: This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to handle food safely during the storage, preparation, display, service and disposal of food.

Management

Coach others in job skills Unit code: SITXWHS002 Unit description: This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to identify hazards, assess the associated workplace safety risks, take measures to eliminate or minimise those risks, and document all processes. This unit incorporates the requirement, under state and territory work health and safety WHS legislation, for businesses to take a systematic approach to managing the safety of their workers and anyone else in the workplace.

Diploma of Project Management

From there you can progress to the diploma and advanced diploma courses to learn and refine leadership and management skills, and conceive, plan, stage and manage a range of different types of events.
