Their enlarged central eyes are equipped with telephoto lenses, and their colour vision is far superior to ours — so from the perspective of a female peacock spider, these displays must look even more dazzling. Watch on Thursday 23rd October at 21:00 on BBC One.

City Paper

Even if you live in a city or the suburbs, miles from the nearest grazing cow, your young child has probably seen or heard about farm animals. Those that remain in the same areas as humans must quickly learn to compete for scarce resources and have been observed stealing crops, raiding livestock and displaying aggressive behaviour towards people. It means the world either way! While birds of paradise get a lot of press for their impressive struts and shakes, other animals might surprise you with their secret skills.
