Cornish Coastal Path (Cornwall)

Chy Lowena is a large granite double cottage with mature gardens and sea views, just a few footsteps away from the South West Coast Path. A Cornish chough spotted at Land's End Image: Pete Warman How do I get to Land's End? However, the grain is finer. The coastal path is a real treasure in this area.

Walks

The Land's End: A Naturalist's Impressions in West Cornwall. The streets are narrow - very narrow in places! Also part of the path is dangerously close to the cliff edge.

Lands End, West Cornwall, Things to see and do

We follow the coast road towards Penberth and Porthcurno. By bus: The First Group co-ordinates bus services from the Penzance main station to Land's End. It's mostly up and down which means that beaches, cafes and ice cream places are often within reach.

Walks

Facilities include indoor pool, sauna and outdoor tennis courts. . You can still take a photograph of the iconic sign, just not always with you in it or particularly close.

Land's End Landmark

Each two-bedroomed cottage sleeps 4. There's a year-round parking charge at Land's End, with funds going to help preserve the designated " and protect its ecosystem. If you like touristy shops and recreations of ancient stories then the visitors centre is worth visiting as you wander down to the sign and the cliff tops.

£10 to have your photo taken with the sign says it all

En route we pass the Merry Maidens - a stoneage stone circle from 5000 years ago? Sleeps 6-7 in 3 bedrooms.
