Army Service Corps, 1902

For your information, I can also confirm 'N' prefix SWB's for Newfoundland. The divisional insignia during the Second World War was changed to an outline of a black cat in a red background.

56th (London) Infantry Division

The conduct of war changed dramatically in the late Victorian era, after the debacle in the Crimean War and humiliating setbacks in the Boer War. They show the personal side of soldiering as opposed to the more formal official perspective. Dust Jacket Condition: Very Good.

Online Collection

The images displayed in this superb book represent life in the ASC at a crucial period of its history.

56th (London) Infantry Division

Pages and cover are clean and intact. Essentially, it covers defense and attack including night operations and, importantly, gives a series of examples of real fighting against the Japanese. On 31 March the battery joined 18th Heavy Artillery Brigade, moving to 30th Heavy Artillery Brigade a week later.

Army Service Corps 1902

The 6th Service Battalion, of the was the first Kitchener unit to be involved in a major offensive operation of the war. Of great value in understanding what the Japanese were doing and the thought processes behind developing counter-tactics. I was puzzled by the different variants of MT numbering and began to try and make some sense of them.

Postcards of the Army Service Corps 1902

Talking of which, as part of the U. The quality of reproduction is superb and for any student of the army of this period it really is a must. So I advise our American cousins to buy now whilst the post is cheap and the exchange rate is good.

56th (London) Infantry Division

The Territorials were to be reduced from 266 fighting units to 195.
