At first glance it will appear that the size of this volume is not at all commensurate to the task of correcting the many errors that are heard in our communication with all classes that pretend to speak the English language.

Pukhan ŭi ch'eje chönhwan kwa pö̃p chedo / Yun Tae

I have noticed, invariably, that those who appear to be so anxious to correct the error of giving degrees of comparison to a few stereotyped words of this class, such as round, square, universal, chief, extreme, etc.

Korean Honey Pastry (□□ Yakgwa or Yakwa)

It is ridiculous for any one to insist upon a national reformation of a few such errors, and suffer a hundred others just like them to exist without remonstrance. Mischievous—mīs'che-vūs, not mīs-chē'vūs, nor mis-chē've-us. And you will find the guardian of these promising youths, sitting there all day shouting encore to their absurdities, and not rational enough to see his indiscretion in permitting their frivolity.
