By Steamer from Collingwood or Sarnia to Fort William. The intense morning sunlight emphasized the density of the cloud and it appeared to deepen the monumental appearance of the rocky ridges on either side of the road. We put up at the end of thirteen miles, and were then joined by a Chipewyan, who came, as we supposed, to serve as our guide to Pierre au Calumet, but as none of the party could communicate with our new friend, otherwise than by signs, we waited patiently until the morning to see what he intended to do.

Another frequent cause is, he thinks, the jealousy of old men who having married young wives, still cling to their exclusive possession even in death, and leave injunctions, either with their wives themselves to make the offering, or with their heirs to urge them to it. Follow 16 West to Pana, then pick up 51 south Oconee, Ramsey and Vandalia.

As a further proof of this, in October, 1871, one quart of Fall wheat was sown not far from Winnipeg, the same was harvested in August, 1872, and produced the very best sample of grain at the rate of 72 bushels per acre, which was exhibited at the Minnesota State Fair, and pronounced the best sample on exhibition. Save late regret, and bitter tears for ever, and in vain? Captain Manning says that he always, if he finds himself near the supposed situation, keeps a good look-out. We regretted bitterly that we had sent our packets by the Christiana, and that we had now that so much better an opportunity occurred nothing ready to despatch; but it was not to be helped.

It was instantly whispered round the circle, that at least one devil had crept under the moose-skin. The remaining half of the journey was even worse than the first, for, in addition to the mud and the rocks and other impedimenta, we had to cross Bonanza Creek several times, and by bridges more often than not consisting only of single trees laid from bank to bank—easy enough for an old hand or a tight-rope walker, but a feat not in my line.
