At a certain wavelength, this sensor head is extremely sensitive to the medium inserted into the surface of the sensor. According to this model the electrons in a MNC is distributed in different energy shells of a spherical harmonic potential well.

UNSPECIFIED 1999 JOURNAL OF CHEMICAL PHYSICS, 110 19. After the tragedy at the Fukushima nuclear facility following the March 2011 Tohoku earthquake and tsunami, the nuclear industry has issued a Request for Proposal RFP to design and build a small, remotely controlled inspection vehicle. The Tutorial on Advanced Failure Analysis is consequently focussed on on Strategy of some significant case histories, dealing with failures from field applications or life tests of advanced semiconductor devices of the previously indicated categories, and belonging to field applications or life tests.
