Trauma Informed Care for Substance Abuse Counseling

While the gerontology literature often makes this distinction, the substance use literature on seniors often does not. Combined with behavioral therapy, studies reveal a higher success rate in patients seeking recovery.

Substance Use Disorders and Vocational Rehabilitation Implications

Substance Abuse and Substance Dependence Diagnostic Criteria There are important distinctions between the diagnostic criteria of substance abuse as compared to substance dependence. A core group of volunteers attended a full-day training session that educated them about alcohol use problems in seniors and taught them how to present this information to other service providers.

Best practices: Treatment and rehabilitation for seniors with substance use problems.

A Canadian study to promote safe medication use found that benzodiazepines were regularly used by 20% of older adults aged 55 and over in 22 Quebec communities Paradis, 1990. Recovery from drug addiction is a long-term process and frequently requires multiple episodes of treatment.

NEATTC

If an unpleasant or potentially dangerous acute alcohol or drug withdrawal period is a concern, you may need to go through a supervised detox stage, which lets your body work the substance out of your system, often with the help of medications to manage withdrawal symptoms.

Substance Use Disorders and Vocational Rehabilitation Implications

Hair turns gray, bones and joints lose density, lean body mass gradually turns to body fat, and vision and hearing losses may occur. This expectation can lead to problems. The first was the system-level and, most importantly, included calls for top-down policy development necessary to support bottom-up community coordination activities such as service agreements, other local coordinating mechanisms and pilot projects.
