It was the first OSS secret agent team infiltrated into enemy-occupied Europe. Meanwhile, the other main mission, headed by Gunny Curtis and Angelos, had launched their nighttime assault on the Alexandroupolis railroad bridge in Greece, a 100- foot long bridge supported by a single, eighty-foot high pier. In a new district, where the Resistance was trustworthy, Captain Cyr and Team George led local maquis in numerous attacks on German troop convoys, railroads, canals and bridges.

Yet they also engaged in paramilitary operations, including attacking convoys and facilities with guns and plastic explosives disguised to look like potatoes and radioing for Allied bombing attacks. The Germans sent a force of nearly 4,000 to destroy what they believed was an entire Allied battalion, in the process, wiping out the entire village of Montgirod that had harbored the Americans and the maquis, burning the town and killing the villagers.
