The 1994 Agreement also established a Finance Committee that would originate the financial decisions of the Authority, to which the largest donors would automatically be members and in which decisions would be made by consensus.

The law of the sea and landlocked states

. Foreign nations have the freedom of navigation and overflight, subject to the regulation of the coastal states.

Reflections on landlocked states

Access to living resources in the EEZs of neighbouring coastal states Landlocked states have the right to exploit living resources of the EEZ of coastal states, as outlined in Article 69 of UNCLOS. Landlocked states are also impacted by the political, economic, technical and governance situations in their transit states. The limitation applying to developed landlocked states in Article 69 4 does not apply in Africa, where all the landlocked states are developing.

Reflections on landlocked states

Easily, transit states can place impediments if they are in diplomatic or military conflict, with landlocked states. The United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS, also called the Law of the Sea Convention or the Law of the Sea treaty, is the international agreement that resulted from the third United Nations Conference on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS III, which took place between 1973 and 1982. Be that as it may, although there is as yet no concrete information on Covid-19 pandemic vis-à-vis landlocked states, the latter have the advantage of focused or well-identified borders. Article 132 Grant of greater transit facilities This Convention does not entail in any way the withdrawal of transit facilities which are greater than those provided for in this Convention and which are agreed between States Parties to this Convention or granted by a State Party. Geographically, landlocked states bear very little resemblance to one another.

Agreements can also take the shape of a corridor agreement — a set of rules that regulates all the aspects of transport and the transport of goods via a given route, or corridor. On the latter, it lays out explicitly the process for claiming territory along the basis of islands and historical precedent. However, the United States cannot claim Russia and China to be in violation of a treaty that it is not a party to.
