LearnGaelic

The project recognises parents are the prime educators of their children and helps them in the role so it is good we can offer books now in Gaelic as well as English. Toddlers and their parents celebrated the launch of a new book of play ideas in Gaelic by enjoying fun and games in an Inverness park.

New Toddler Fun Book For Gaelic Readers

Toddlers grow so quickly that it can be hard to come up with fresh ideas to entertain and stimulate them so this is a very helpful resource. Since the scheme, which is run by The Highland Council and NHS Highland, was introduced in 2002, the book has only been available in English, but from today parents and carers who read Gaelic will have their own language version. Gheibh pàrantan a-nis tro na Cròileagain agus anns gach leabharlann sa Ghàidhealtachd.

LearnGaelic

We are already seeing more parents, who themselves have been educated through Gaelic medium, wishing to pass on their bi-lingual skills to their own young families.

LearnGaelic

As a Council we are committed to supporting the development of the Gaelic language and I see this as an investment for the future. Tha am pròiseact mothachail gur iad na pàrantan prìomh luchd-oideachaidh na cloinne agus tha e gan cuideachadh san dreuchd sin.
