This temperature maintaining arrangement maintains the vapor in a volume of the chamber bounded by the cover 36, the sides of the walls 33 and the surface 42 of the precursor mass 40 in the desired example temperature range of between 180° C. It exists in combination with niobium, that is quite similar to tantalum in various characteristics. Examples of such species include zincite ZnO , tenorite CuO , cuprite Cu 2O , rutile TiO 2 , uraninite UO 2 , corundum Al 2O 3 , hematite Fe 2O 3 , and magnetite Fe 3O 4.
