European reconstruction was a priority, which explains why between 1945 and 1952 Latin America received less economic support than Belgium and Luxembourg, p. In Experiments with Empire Justin Izzo examines how twentieth-century writers, artists, and anthropologists from France, West Africa, and the Caribbean experimented with ethnography and fiction in order to explore new ways of knowing the colonial and postcolonial world. As he approaches his ninetieth year, he's still working at a furious pace as a man of boundless contradictions: by turns one of the most dissected, disliked, revered, respected, mocked, imitated, and beloved stars in the show business firmament.

Nationalist, Hemispheric, and Global: “Latin American Music” and the Music Division of the Pan American Union, 1939

. Considering cultural mores specific to the rural West, the authors identify the forces that consistently trap women in cycles of crime and violence in these regions: felony-related discrimination, the geographic isolation that traps women in abusive relationships, and cultural stigmas surrounding addiction, poverty, and precarious interpersonal relationships. This second supposition is more likely in spite of his numerous claims that his memory is faulty.
