Patent License Agreement

Sublicensees may be anyone, or may be limited to, for example, only parties in privity with the licensee; only affiliates of the licensee; only a specified number of third parties; or only parties preapproved by the licensor. Once you have defined it, you should not spell it out in detail again. There is a major upraise in technological know-how, therefore extra security measures have to be undertaken to protect the creation and hence a confidentiality clause binds the binds from disclosing the integrities of the creation.

A lawyer can help you sort out these issues and make sure that nothing is overlooked.

Drafting a Technology Transfer and Licensing Agreement?

The owner is given royalty towards sale of such e-books or is paid a certain amount of consideration. The clause also protects the interest of the licensor, dis-incentivising the licensee from raising false challenges to the validity of IP in order to negotiate a better deal from the licensor. It can be easier to modify a schedule than the whole contract, should the need for changes arise.
