As you can see from the notes I made myself I wanted to include my memories. . The bowl has been reworked.

CATHOLIC ENCYCLOPEDIA: Apostle Spoons

In some communities this tradition continued until at least the mid-twentieth century. Matthew was sold at Christie's London on 21 April 1896, lot 223. My grandmother had these in various states of use! The spoon has a series of German marks, and a series of simulated British marks, but I suspect that it was made for the American market.

CATHOLIC ENCYCLOPEDIA: Apostle Spoons

Matthew holds a halberd or a pole-axe. The earliest such examples of this form are the Wodewose spoons, with finials cast in form of the figure of a wild man.

A HENRY VIII PARCEL

Accordingly, in offering this resource Catholic Answers does not thereby endorse every assertion or phrase in it. The spoons are quite large, suitable for use as serving spoons.

How to Identify Antique Spoons

Since the influence of the Church is not as great as it used to be, many of these spoons are more generic. This spoon would be used only by that person and it would be kept for life.
