Through vales of grass and meads of flowers Our ploughs their furrows made, While on the hills the sun and showers Of changeful April played. He freely sent the gentle rain, The summer sun glorified hill and plain, To golden perfection brought the grain, Io! The Fruit At The Bottom Of The Bowl.

The Song of Wandering Aengus by William Butler...

From mountain peak to mountain peak he measured his wide course, almost grazing at times the murmuring pine forests, and then sweeping high in mid-air with nothing above but the arching sky, and nothing beneath but the tossing sea.

Proverbs 25:11 A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in settings of silver.

Put in the sickle, reap the corn; It is the solemn harvest morn. This year, show your little students that they are the apple of your eye with new preschool poems about apples, as well as activities that are simply sensational.
