The Early History of Motion Pictures

Further terminology is used to distinguish various forms and media used in the film industry.

Motion Pictures, MFA

Philadelphians Fairman Rogers scientist and then head of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and Thomas Eakins painter, sportsman, and student of anatomy were both members of a university commission formed in 1884 to supervise Muybridge's work. His first wife, Jean Archer, claimed to have been spirited to his deathbed by none other than the Angel of Death himself. He then further developed the device into the which could project longer sequences with separate backgrounds, patented in 1888.

Motion Pictures: Registration

Occasionally the word can also be used to refer to the fame of other members of the crew, such as a director or other personality, such as.

film

If I fail, you will never hear of me again. Pickford developed alcoholism and died a recluse while Fairbanks died later in life of a heart attack after vigorously working out, against medical advice, in an attempt to regain his youthful appearance. Illumination was provided by an electric bulb positioned directly beneath the film.
