Democratic Communities and Business/Education “Partnerships” in Secondary Education

House of Representatives, One Hundred Twelfth Congress, first session, hearing held in Washington, DC, November 16, 2011. In this volume the author lays out the facts on the current state of American Education. It is something which has come to be; it is big and impressive, and you are impressed.

Extending the Possibilities of Multicultural Community Partnerships in Urban Public Schools

Chapters address issues of health, environment, education, and cultural identity in an urban Appalachian context, and are meant to be a resource for educators and health and human service professionals involved with this social sector. Despite a decade of frenzied interest, there is little consensus on the most fundamental issues. The issue of equity in education continues to be pitted against the issue of quality in education.
