

Farming for health - green-care farming across Europe and the United States of America

Springer - Farming for Health: Green

Description: -

- Farms -- Therapeutic use -- United States
- Agriculture -- Therapeutic use -- United States
- Agriculture -- Therapeutic use -- Europe
- Farms -- Therapeutic use -- Europe
- Occupational therapy -- United States
- Occupational therapy -- Europe
- Farming for health - green-care farming across Europe and the United States of America

- Wageningen UR frontis series -- v. 13. Farming for health - green-care farming across Europe and the United States of America

Notes: Includes bibliographical references.

This edition was published in 2006

Filesize: 69.28 MB

Tags: #Farming #for #Health. #Green

Farming for Health

Care farms utilise the whole or part of a farming property to provide health, social or educational care services through supervised, structured programs of farming-related activities.

Farming for Health: Green

Farming for Health: aspects from Germany; Konrad Neuberger, Ingrid Stephan, Robert Hermanowski, Albrecht Flake, Franz-Joseph Post, Thomas van Elsen.

Farming for Health: Green

Green-care farming across Europe and the United States of America: Proceedings of the Frontis Workshop on Farming for Health Wageningen, The Netherlands 16-19 March 2005. Agriculture and health care: the care of plants and animals for therapy and rehabilitation in the United States; Paula Diane Relf, Gillespie2 and Sophie Yu-Pu Chen3 Front.

Care farming: creating community in nature

Social farming appears as an evolving, dynamic scenario, which is gaining increasing attention from multiple stakeholders. The types of farms and client groups vary widely and serve people living with issues such as depression and other mental health issues, dementia, intellectual disabilities, substance misuse, as well as people who are tied to the justice system. The numbers of such multifunctional farms offering Green Care services is increasing rapidly in many countries.

Farming for Health, Jan Hassink (Edited ) Majken van Dijk (Edited )

Farming for Health publication 2005 An overview of the state of art in Farming for Health can be found in the book Farming for Health. Farming for Health - the situation in Flanders; Katrien Goris and Hilde Weckhuysen.

Farming for Health. Green

There are a handful of large-scale residential therapeutic farm communities in the US that offer recovery-oriented programs for people with complex mental health issues such as schizophrenia, schizoaffective disorder, bipolar disorder, and severe depression.

Farming for Health publications

Physical distancing rules mean heading outdoors has become one of the few activities left for those wanting to escape their house. Green care in Norway: farms as a resource for the educational, health and social sector; Lisbeth Haugan, Ragnhild Nyland, Elsa Fjeldavli, Toril Meistad and Bjarne O.

Related Books

- Excavations at Giza.
- Purgatory of Dante Alighieri
- Arkansas Valley Interurban
- Relación de la ciudad del Cusco, 1649, 1982
- Come to the table - food and fellowship for celebrating Gods bounty