Travels, researches and missionary labours, during an 18 years' residence in Eastern Africa. With an appendix respecting the snow

From here it soon meets with the at. When these preparations were well advanced, I went northward to visit the Bakaa and Bamangwato, and the Makalaka, living between 22 Degrees and 23 Degrees south latitude. It would seem that any apprehensiveness is likely to have been eased, by the generally friendly and mutually respectful rapport most people have with their respective health extension workers.
