Btw — my source for the number of flight hours was this report: , see page 24 at the bottom right corner where it adds up all flight hours for the US. The LVVSA is a Chapter of the Soaring Society of America, and membership in the SSA is required of all LVVSA members. We also offer Power Pilot training in our Cessna C-172 at a very reasonable rate.

Sky Sailing

Did you catch the fundamental flaw? Whether outwardly or inwardly, whether in space or time, the farther we penetrate the unknown, the vaster and more marvelous it becomes. If you have data that is more reliable, please let me know. Soaring groups with a significant composition of full-time students.

Soaring

Thanks for the article, great perspective! We remain true to our tradition of sensible fleet maintenance, backed up by diverse experience from top international pilots.

Omaha Soaring Club

The lower air speeds and lower glide ratios of typical hang gliders means that shorter cross-country distances are flown than in modern gliders. One CSA glider has flown in 3 SSA Regional contests and has been used to earn several advanced soaring badges. The numbers you use are more like a mountaineering statistic, which is much more dangerous than rock climbing.

Omaha Soaring Club

A break in the cable or the weak link during a winch launch is a possibility for which pilots are trained. Pilots near Australia's make use of it in. After you obtain your private pilot license you are free to take passengers, and pursue your personal goals, be that learning to fly cross-country, instructing, badge or record flying, or just flying around the gliderport for fun! I totally agree that Base Jumping stats were some of the hardest to come by and I realize the data is weak.
