Gautama (Authority on Nyāyaśāstra)

Also known as īcchopāya, the path of will.

Gautama (Authority on Nyāyaśāstra)

SWAMIJI: It is a pure internal perception in anupāya. JOHN: But what is the difference between this siddha darśana and this. And some sādhakas are established in anupāya with the addition of śāmbhavopāya also—some.

The nature of God consciousness

SWAMIJI: Siddha darsana is just in touch with śāmbhavopāya,<sup>9</sup> and yoginī melāpa is in touch with śāktopāya. For instance, anupāya is one in prasaja pratiṣedha, anupāya is only one.

The Sarva

Here are some of the topics Abhinavagupta examines in the second and third chapter: Second Chapter — anupāya: The means where there is nothing to be done.

Gautama (Authority on Nyāyaśāstra)

In śāmbhavopāya also, there are various means; in śāktopāya also, there are also various means; and in āṇavopāya also. SWAMIJI: Śāktopāya, it is externally. The author has, at the request of the publishers, considerably enlarged the work for the translator, and has added the literature of the subject to date the translation may, therefore, be looked upon as an equivalent of a new and improved edition of the original.

Buy The Sarva

JOHN: So that is the means of anupāya. SCHOLAR: They always over-fold to some extent.

Buy The Sarva

Sa hi nityodito vibhuḥ, and that state of God consciousness is shining everywhere—in āṇavopāya, in sāktopāya, in sāmbhavopāya, and in anupāya, too. Also known as jñānopāya, the path of knowledge.
