Gifted and Talented in Visual Art

So, I think it would probably be better in the common core if it was less focused on imitating art. With the help of faculty advisors, students serve as architects of their individual degree plans. For more information about the CiFA program, please email or call 609.

Bert C. Bach Fine & Performing Arts Scholars Program

Those studies showed that age-related trends were apparent in the central spatial structures used by young gifted artists, and developmental patterns also were evident in color use, composition, and core elements in human figure drawing.

Hampton City Schools

Participating schools were required to commit a monetary match to provide arts experiences. Booster organizations play an important role in supporting, encouraging, and advancing these programs.

QUT

The goal is to connect schools, teachers, administrators and students with high quality arts learning experiences with professional artists.

College of Performing & Visual Arts

This scholarship is available for students who are applying for courses that have additional entry requirements like an audition or portfolio.
