The Sharia and Islamic Law: An Introduction

In time, Islam spread to other towns like Oyo the first Oyo convert was Solagberu , Ibadan, Abeokuta, Ijebu-Ode, Ikerun, and Ede before the 18th-century Sokoto jihad. It had spread to the major cities of the northern part of the country by the 16th century, later moving into the countryside and towards the uplands. Writings by Ahmad Farta an Imam during the period of Idris Alooma provided glimpse of an active Islamic community in Bornu while religious archives showed Islam had been adopted as the religion of the majority of the leading figures in the Borno Empire during the reign of Mai king 1571—1603 , although a large part of that country still adhered to traditional religions.
