Ipswich Historic Lettering: Street name derivations

Opposite is the brass to Thomas Rowley who died in 1478 and his wife died c1470 who was vestryman at St John's. It gives name to East deanery, in the archdeaconry of Cornwall and diocese of Exeter. The castle grounds have been laid out at the expense of the dukes of Northumberland, constables of the castle under the Prince of Wales, to whom the manor belongs, and on whom it confers the title of viscount.

King John's Palace

The remainder of the lane that is today's once ran through Dr Beeston's garden. The number of overseers varied between two and four during the 18th and the early 19th century; a salaried assistant was appointed from 1817.
