The aim of this protocol is to extend earlier work and describe a systematic review to identify, synthesise and draw meaning from studies published within the last 5 years that measure the sustainability of interventions, improvement efforts and change strategies in the health system. According to our results, gamified hBCSSs are implemented under different facets of lifestyle change and treatments compliance, and use a multitude of technologies and methods.

Complementary to the high relevance of awareness rising for protecting humans against climate change, here we present a One Health approach, which aims at the simultaneous protection of humans, animals and the environment from climate change impacts climate change adaptation. By 1993, turnover had dropped to 27 %. A simple narrative to document these improvements can be used to communicate the benefits of these facility investments and generate goodwill in the community.

Tyler shows that obedience to the law is strongly influenced by a belief in its legitimacy and its moral correctness. In other words, the working version of a physical product successfully shows the key features and functionality of the final version of the product. The protocol outlines a method by which to execute a rigorous systematic review.
