On board were 209 Irish female migrants who sailed on the Inconstant from Plymouth to Adelaide are available from shipping records of the times. The four women probably went to Bundaberg at this stage, and the Bundaberg link is shown as follows: Information from the Gin Gin Rate book shows that Mrs E.

The Genesis of Belfast Girls by Jaki McCarrick

The ship itself is real; constructed in 1841, she was one of the largest of the many ships that ferried famine orphans to Australia and returned to England with holds full of Australian gold. Passages were paid by the colonials who were in great need of house servants, farm servants and dairy maids and potential brides for the many emancipated transported convicts desperate to marry. William DAVIS 1861 Manchester Census.
