Responses of red deer (Cervus elaphus) to regular disturbance by hill walkers

To the north the Corbetts above Inverlochlarig. They represent masses of granite which are less closely jointed than surrounding rock and which have therefore been less susceptible to underground weathering associated with fluid percolation along joints.

Communities across the Cairngorms

Siloch, Beinn Eighe, Liathach and Beinn Alligin are covered by this sheet enlargement of Liathach on back of map. The Cairngorm Mountain Railway is the highest railway in the United Kingdom and opened in 2001. Just 4 days ago a period of 13 days of continuous temperatures below zero ended and last night saw a recordbreaking 13 degrees above zero.

Disturbance has also been shown to alter habitat use by wild ungulates Gander and Ingold ; Jiang et al. Perhaps it was the suddenness of coming out of the trees into the open cirque. Argyll Forest Park The steep, moss-covered sides of Puck's Glen create a feeling of magic and mystery.

List of 1:50000 OS maps

Coire na Ciche and A Cioc'h Beinn a Bhuidh , On the good path north for Clach a year, they were sure they were trout and not Arctic Charr. The figure itself might be explained by the brockenspectre, a phenomena caused by your own shadow being reflected on clouds below. The giants of the same name camp — not quite what we expected...again to.
