

Historical comparison of social stratification types in Czechoslovakia 1967-1984-1991

Institute of Sociology, Czechoslovak Academy of Sciences - Social Demography

Description: -

- Social surveys -- Czechoslovakia
- Social classes -- Czechoslovakia
- Historical comparison of social stratification types in Czechoslovakia 1967-1984-1991
- Pracovní texty.
- Working papers
- Historical comparison of social stratification types in Czechoslovakia 1967-1984-1991
- Notes: Includes bibliographical references (p. 13-14).
- This edition was published in 1992

Filesize: 17.410 MB

Tags: #Inequality

Veronika Kalmus

Stratification is the unequal ways in which the goods of society are distributed. Children under 18 years of age need not pay the latter fee.

Social differentiation of language

Inequality in Access to Secondary and Post-Secondary Education in Countries of the Former Soviet Bloc after 1948.

2.1: Dominant and Minority Groups

Cohort observations would reveal much higher mobility than is indicated by cross-sectional data.

Social differentiation of language

Funded by VEGA - the Slovak Grant Agency for Sciences as the project No. Many immigrants come from countries where English was the dominant language or where they attended English-speaking schools. We assume that values and identities are important elements of culture, and changes in those elements reflect societal and cultural transformations.

Related Books

- [3\] Drei Duette für zwei Violinen, op.3.](#)
- Ring resounding
- Étudiant périmé
- Charter for Justice and Peace in Ireland.
- Condensed matter physics - dynamic correlations