Claude Lévi

Our pre-processing includes standard text-mining methodology: transformation to lowercase, removal of punctuation, language detection and removal of non-German titles, stemming, n-gram detection and removal of very frequent words, rare words, stopwords and short titles. However, there are still differences in some topics between East and West before the reunification. Products and packages may require more time to be delivered due to limited transportation availability as a result of the ongoing COVID-19 impacts.
