The fiber has been characterized by the use of an Optical Backscatter Reflectometer OBR Luna 4600.

David Tod Roy's personal annotated copy of The Plum in the Golden Vase

The simulation result of the resonance wavelength change with the refractive index of the liquid was also given. Zheng and Jing Fan and Hong-wei Chen and E. Results show a strong multi-modal behavior induced by the guidance properties of the three-layer system.

The other branch of this research is the application of hoop strain information for pipeline leakage detection and localization. Basic theory of the antiresonance reflecting optical waveguide model is presented and analyzed for this structure. In order to improve the quality of greenhouse vegetable plug seedlings and realize rapid detection of growth information of greenhouse vegetable plug seedlings, a device for detecting the growth information was designed.
