Early history of Fort Payne and DeKalb County

Stewart University Press - Historic DeKalb County, Alabama

Description: -
-
De Kalb County (Ala.) -- History, Local.
Fort Payne (Ala.) -- History.Early history of Fort Payne and DeKalb County
-
Land-volk-cultuur
The Chronicles of Dixie series
v. 1
Alabamas DeKalb County ;Early history of Fort Payne and DeKalb County
Notes: Includes bibliographical references and index.
This edition was published in 1980

Filesize: 65.410 MB

Tags: #DeKalb #County, #Alabama

Fort Payne

Many of the notable historic buildings in Fort Payne date from this period of economic growth and prosperity, including the state's oldest standing theater, the ; the former factory of the Hardware Manufacturing Company today known as the , now the location of the , formerly the passenger station for the present-day.

DeKalb County Alabama Genealogy and History

Today there is no fort or stockade standing as a stark reminder of what the Cherokees and other Indian tribes endured. At the 2010 census, the population was 14,012.

Historic DeKalb County, Alabama

Early History of DeKalb County DeKalb County was once a part of the territory occupied by the Cherokee Indian nation. Funds for this project were made possible from the ATTOTCA through the sale of merchandise at their annual Trail of Tears Motorcycle Ride, from community donations and from a generous donation from former Alabama State Senator Lowell Barron. After the revolution, Cherokees continued to occupy the territory as did increasing numbers of white settlers who came from the Carolinas, Georgia, and Tennessee.

DeKalb County Alabama Genealogy and History

A majority of the Cherokees opposed the signing of this treaty, however, and refused to leave.

Fort Payne

In the city, the population was spread out, with 23.

Relocation

Bookmobile and Books-by-Mail services are also provided. Farm families produced their own clothing from cotton and wool.

Related Books

- Advertising copywriting
- Cruce de caminos - sobre el arte y la fotografía
- Social justice - a Scotland where everyone matters
- Correlation of enumerations of the letters of Charles Lamb in Lucas (1935) and Everyman (1945)
- Ṣayd al-khāṭir